Going Beyond ESSA to Create Real Transparency

The Whole Picture

Creating Additional Context
Postsecondary Enrollment
Workforce Outcomes
Kindergarten Readiness

We have the opportunity to show more.

As states update their report cards, they should go beyond ESSA requirements and provide stakeholders—like parents, educators and taxpayers—the information they want and need.

Additional Requirements for State Report Cards
Accountability Data

Requirements under ESSA only show part of the picture.

When students, parents, educators, and policymakers have the right information to make decisions, students achieve their best.
